MUSKOGEE COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY NEWSLETTER

VOL I.
No# 1.

WELCOME!!!!

Sept

As President of our new Society, and editor of this newsletter, I would like to welcome you to our membership. I feel that we have set goals to grow on, and will in the future have our place in the history and form of Muskogee County that we are all so deeply interested in.

The Society has its work cut out for it. As we come into the area of records research and preservation, we fear that we may have, in some cases, come to late. We can only begin at this point and do the best we can.

The Society has already taken steps to assist with research and publication of the vast card files on Deceased Veterans of the Muskogee Veterans Hospital. These records contain valuable information of a genealogical nature and can be published for library use. We will keep you posted on this project and others we become involved with. Society members will be canvassing the County in search of church records to copy, such as the one copied by Society member Sherri Siebold and which appears in this newsletter.

We hope you enjoy this newsletter, and that you will send us your queries, pedigree charts and suggestions on what you want to see printed in the future. Please help us obtain good materials for use, such as family histories, bible records, old articles, letters and etc that are of a genealogical nature. Photos(copies if you have them) will also be used and returned to you.

This is your Society, please let us, on the Board of Directors, know how we may assist you and what your research needs are.

Carole L. Ellsworth - President
Rae Lindsey - Vice President
Treasurer - Pete Hagan

* INDIAN TERRITORY *

By: Lulu Boggs

Indian Territory - This a term that has meant many things to many groups of people at many different times in the history of our nation. To a Jamestown settler it meant all the vast lands outside of their own little area of influence. As the country grew other concepts developed.

To the present generation of Oklahomans and those concerned with Oklahoma history and genealogy, the term in 1850 referred to all the area that is now Oklahoma with the exception of Greer County and our Panhandle. (Greer County was deemed ours by the Supreme Court in 1896.)

This small, soon to be, Oklahoma area was the portion that the five Civilized Tribes had been made to accept in return for their vast lands in the Southeast, from which they were forcibly expelled.

During the Civil War many Indian sympathies were with the South. For they were truly Southern people. Many wished to remain neutral and many earnestly tried to do so.

The Civil War over, the Northern faction in their punishment of "enemies" took more than half of the area from the Five Tribes and made them accept the Osages and then many small tribes into even that portion,

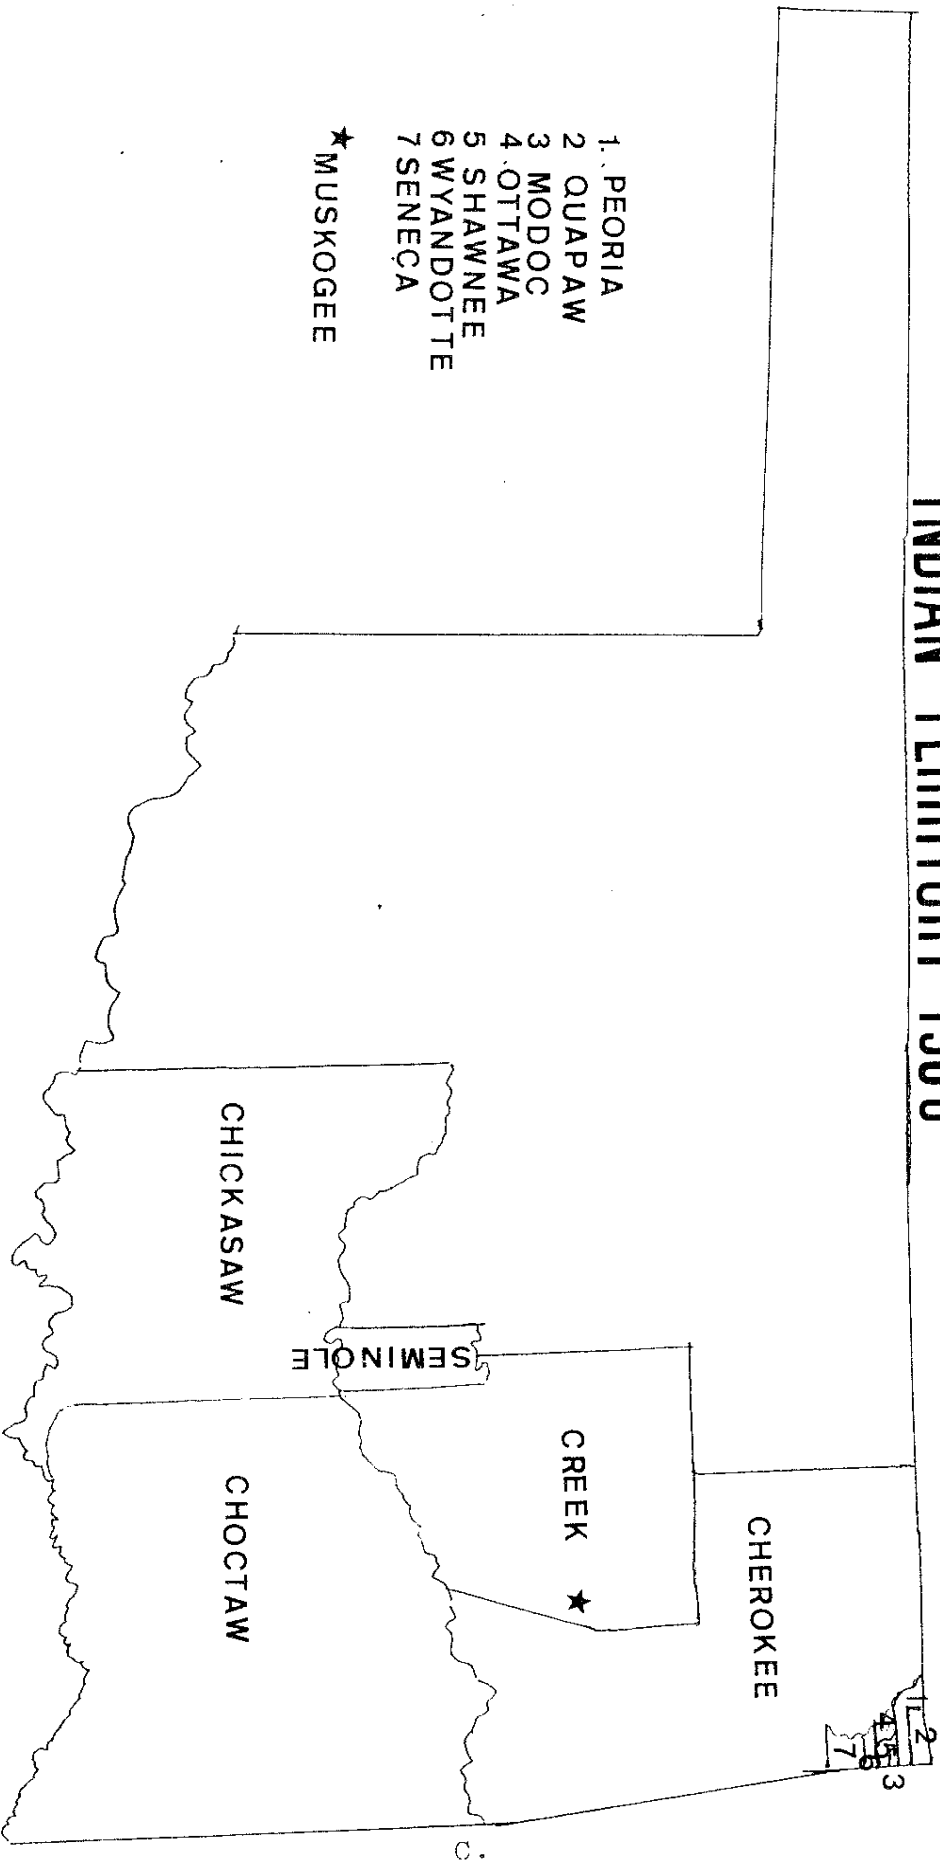

By 1895 the entire area controlled by the Five Tribes and some small tribes in the Northeastern corner, was roughly the lower half of the area between the 98th & 97th parallels up from the Texas border. The line then jogged over to the 96th parallel about where it crossed the Arkansas River and then continued North to the Kansas border. (See map)

This then was Indian Territory just prior to statehood. The area would have preferred to become a separate state of itself. The Indians earnestly tried to bring this about by holding a constitutional convention in Muskogee, and writing a constitution for their "State of Sequoayah"

Due to national politics this was not to be. Oklahoma Territory (land West of Indian Territory) had already been opened to settlement by non-Indians. The Enabling Act passed by congress joined Oklahoma & Indian Territory, Officially putting Indian Territory out of existence.

For purposes of research, one must remember that all government entities were completely separate until 1907 and statehood.

By: Dr. Hobert Ragland

Marriage records of Oklahoma are recorded in the office of court clerk located in the various counties of the state. Prior to statehood (1907), marriages of white citizens, in that part of the state known as Indian Territory, were recorded in the various Recording Districts of the United States Federal Court. A number of the court clerks offices contain these records. The following table shows a list of the counties in which these records are kept, the county seat, number of volumes in the office and the period of time covered.
